

Welcome to Six-Its.com

Six-Its investigation training services [Six-Its] has become one of the finest Training Organisations for Investigative services. Six-Its can provide all of your Investigation and Risk Assessment training needs from Certificate III to Diploma level.

Six-Its.com are industry leaders and instrumental in the design and construction of the new Workplace Accident Investigation course recently audited by DET (Queensland Department of Education). The company is the first trainer to offer this nationally recognized certificate. This course was designed for those people in industry both within HR and Occupational Health & Safety that are required to conduct investigations into workplace accidents and incidents. Six-Its is also able to provide eight other investigation courses from Certificate III in Investigations to Diploma in Security & Risk Management and is also able to offer Australia's most popular course, the Certificate IV in Training & Assessment.

“Total investigation training solutions for Industry.”

Importantly all training can be carried out online and is accessible worldwide.

Where a full course is not an option Six-Its.com also provides the following:

- Bespoke training in particular areas of investigation; such as interview techniques, statement taking and evidence gathering;
- RPL (Recognition of Prior Learning) or recognition of current competencies.

If you believe you have the experience or are in a role you believe is sufficient to qualify you for the certificate or diploma then contact us and ask for an RPL information pack.

Register your interest now by visiting www.six-its.com or emailing your request information to info@six-its.com.

Workplace Accident Investigation COURSE NOW ADDED!

Nationally recognised and audited by DET Queensland and combined with other investigation training resulting in a Certificate IV.
